

Driving to the A-Zone Range from Austin

Here's driving directions from Austin with photos of key landmarks.
Take Hwy 290 east, about 20 minutes past Elgin, until to reach the intersection of Hwy 290 and Hwy 21. Hwy 290 goes under Hwy 21, so you have to go over the overpass.
When you see this sign

Get into the right lane and get ready to drive up the overpass. Turn left (east) on Hwy 21, toward Bryan. Go 7 miles. When you see the Manheim Parish Hall on your right

Start looking to your left for CR 107. There's a big "BeefMasters" sign on the corner

Turn left on CR107 and go about 3 miles. Stay to the right when you reach the CR 106 / CR 107 fork in the road

After the fork in the road, stay on CR 107 and continue driving. You will pass several houses and farms, then CR 107 makes a right angle turn, and the pavement ends.

Keep going on the unpaved part of CR 107 another 0.2 mile, until it intersects CR 145 which is paved.

Turn right on CR 145, which ends in a cul de sac.

You'll be at our gate. If it's closed, wait for us to come open it.

If the gate is open, drive on through. Watch out for dogs, cows, deer and other animals. Follow the road about 400 yards to the range. Park in the marked area by the cattle pen.
